Responsibility of citizenship

By WILLIAM L. TRIMYER
RESPONSIBLE CITIZENSHIP
Lesson for November 4, 1984
Bible Study Passage: Romans 13:1-10

INTRODUCTION

In two days you and I will go to the polls to make a decision that will affect the future of our nation and the world. Decisions about national leaders are becoming more and more difficult to make. The millions of dollars spent on campaign rhetoric oftentimes tends to muddy the waters for the voter.

How does anyone make a clear choice when the choices are not so clear? The issues facing our country run deeper than taxes and prayer in public schools. The candidates have bombarded us with promises no one human can deliver.

We Americans place a great deal of burden upon our national leaders to right all of the world's wrongs.

We look to leaders to shoulder our responsibility as citizens of this country. The Christian citizen must remeber that they are citizens of two worlds. Our responsibility is to God and to our country....and in that order. How will you decide if you are ever faced with a decision to choose God or country? The decision that you and I make on Nov. 6 must not be made only along party lines. We must cast our ballot based upon our conscience as a Christian, and not because we happen to be either Republican or Democrat.

It is very difficult to weigh the choices and respond at the polls. Our choices must be made out of our own struggle to discern what and who is right and lead us in these fragile times. No television evangelist can make the decision for us. We must cast our ballot after careful consideration of the facts under the leadership of God's Spirit in our thinking. This week's lesson helps us focus upon the Christian's role as a citizen.

THE DIVINE SIDE OF GOVERNMENT [Rom. 13:1-5]

God did not create the world and then walk off and leave it to run on its own accord. He also provided a way for humans to order themselves. Without a governing arm God knows the world would become chaotic. We know that even with the government our world is sometimes chaotic. Paul reminds us in his letter to the Roman church that Christians must be subject to governing authorities. Governing authorities are a part of God's divine purpose for the human family.

Paul was surely talking about governments which act with justice and concern for all people. When government steps out of bounds and denies freedom and justice to its citizens, the Christian must refuse submission. We have a responsibility to speak out against any leader or country who takes away from human rights. We must come to the aid and defense of those who have no power to speak up for themselves. The elderly, the poor, the children have no defense unless we stand beside them.

THE HUMAN SIDE OF GOVERNMENT [Rom. 13:6-7]

Paul writes that citizens must pay tribute or taxes in support of government. Jesus also said, "Render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's and unto God that which is God's." We must keep in mind that Caesar and God are not the same. If we cannot clearly hold in our minds who Caesar is and who God is, then disastrous results will follow. We will end up giving to Caesar that which belongs to God and we will give to God that which belongs to Caesar. We cannot hide behind God to keep from giving what is rightful to the government and we cannot hide behind the government to keep from giving what is rightful to God. We are guilty of stealing whenever we deny God or the government what is rightfully theirs.

THE OVERRIDING LAW OF LOVE [Rom. 13:8-10]

My grandfather had a personal conviction that he should owe no one anything. He never bought things on time. When a bill came due he would immediately pay it. My grandfather had another personal conviction and that was to take care of his needy neighbor. I never knew my grandfather to commit any ill towards his neighbors.

Jesus told us that the greatest law or commandment is to love God and our fellow human beings. The law of love exceeds every other law of the land. We must know that love keeps us from transgressing against our neighbor and against God.

If you fail to go to the polls this Tuesday you will forfeit your right to criticize the results. Even worse, you will forfeit your responsibility as a citizen. To neglect to vote is to fall in our duty.

Mt. Shiloh church news

Morning services at Mt. Shiloh Church were enjoyed by all attending Sunday. The Rev. Moore preached an inspirational sermon.

The congregation was glad to see "Little Miss Moore" in the audience.

The community was saddened by the passing of Rev. Moores' grandmother, our heart-felt sympathy goes out to the family.

The Rev. Moore and the Mount Shiloh Baptist Church choir, its members and friends are invited to Peaceful Grove Baptist Church, Wednesday night, Oct. 31 at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Moore will conduct services. Peaceful Grove will be celebrating its 70th anniversary, Sunday Nov. 4.

The Rev. Moore is inviting the Mt. Shiloh Baptist Church congregation to attend anniversary services at the Mount Evergreen Baptist Church, Evington, Va. All day services will be held, with dinner served.

Our prayers go out to the sick and shut-in of the community.

Times-Virginian WORSHIP

THE DeLAWDER FAMILY will sing gospel music at Maple Grove Pentecostal Holiness Church this Saturday, Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m. With the family will be the "Off Key Gang," a puppet show to delight young and old.

Catholic church news notes

"Is there anyone sick among you? He should ask for the presbyters of the church. They in turn are to pray over him anointing with oil in the name of the Lord. This prayer uttered in faith will reclaim the one who is ill, and the Lord will restore him to health." (James 5; 14-15)

Since apostolic times presbyters have anointed the sick and prayed that they be healed. During the regular Sunday Liturgy service the Catholic community honored the scriptural directive as more than 15 members of Our Lady of Peace Catholic Church in Appomattox were anointed in the name of Jesus; fellow parishioners came forward and prayed with them for healing. The Scripture continues "If he has committed any sins, forgiveness will be his. Hence, declare your sins to one another, and pray for one another, that you may find healing." (James 5;16)

Anointing the sick is a part of the Sacramental life of the church. In recent church history anointing has returned to setting. In the ceremony, the church community recommends the sick to the Lord, who himself has suffered and been glorified.

"Jesus wants you to be," declared the Rev. Richard Kirch, pastor. "The church teaches that each person who receives this sacrament experiences God's healing power in their lives. This is why the sacrament is for all who are sick, regardless of the degree of their illness. In these modern times the world has sometimes forgotten the source of all healing, Jesus.

"The marvels of modern medicine are a part of God's plan and we must continue to pray that our medical profession will be guided by the Holy Spirit to relieve suffering as we continue this ancient and valid tradition of anointing with oil.

"Indeed, the witness of answered prayer through healing is a powerful testimony to a world seeking the living God" he concluded.

The local church includes the anointing of the sick in the regular Sunday Mass twice a year and on special request.

The Catholic Church in Appomattox is located just off Route 24 on Route 627. Regular services are held at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The 12:15 p.m. services held each Friday will not be celebrated this Friday, Nov. 2.

Everyone is invited to attend Thursday, Nov. 1 it is "The Feast of All Saints" holyday.

Mass will be at 5 p.m.

Gravel Hill

Behold what manner of love the father hath bestowed upon us, called the children of God. 1 John 3:1.

We extend an invitation to you to worship with us at Gravel Hill Baptist Church every third Sunday at 11:30 a.m. for regular worship service.

A special thanks to the choir and the other churches who came to make our pastor's 18th anniversary a success.

Get-well wishes go to Mr. Walter Crocker, who has been in Lynchburg General Hospital. A speedy recovery is wished him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Mills and daughter , Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carter and son of Richmond, visited in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Berkley last weekend.

Please pray for the sick and shut-in, also the bereaved families, and widows.

Haunted house set

A Haunted House will be held tonight (Wednesday) from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Clarence Jones farm on Route 603.

ADK helps sponsor concert by the Richmond Sinfonia

Alpha Delta Kappa, international honorary sorority for women educators, is helping sponsor the Richmond Sinfonia concert with the Teacher Education Centennial Committee and the Longwood College Student Union.

Members of ADK will be selling tickets in their respective schools. The 41 members of the Richmond Sinfonia will be appearing in Longwood's Jarman Auditorium on Sunday, Nov. 11, 1984, at 8 p.m.

ADK celebrated its 37th anniversary the week of Oct. 14-20, 1984. The local committee who organized the program for ADK week consisted of Martha Waldrop, chairman, Frances Clark, Annice Schular, Patricia Davis, and Norma Gibbons.

ADK was founded in Jefferson, Missouri in 1947 and became an international organization in 1956. The sorority seeks to recognize outstanding women educators. Other goals of the organization include building a fraternal fellowship among educators; promoting excellence in education; promoting educational and charitable projects and activities; enriching the lives of individuals everywhere and assisting these individuals into a happy, constructive and fulfilling life.

The goals are achieved through various local, state, national, and international projects. Internationally, the sorority provides money for foreign students to study in the United States, for research grants and for members to travel abroad.

The Virginia chapters contribute to the Children's Unit of Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg and award three scholarships annually to Virginia ADK members.

The Farmville Chapter of ADK was organized in April, 1970. The chapter has members representing public and private schools and colleges in Amelia, Buckingham, Charlotte, Cumberland, Lunenburg, and Prince Edward counties.

The Farmville officers are: Pat Johnson, president; Cecil Kidd, vice-president; Elizabeth Duckworth, recording secretary; Carolyn Worthington, treasurer, Ethel Southall, historian; Bobbie Staples, sergeant-at-arms; and Dot Campbell, chaplain.

Arts and crafts show set

The Powhatan Junior Woman's Club's ninth annual Arts and Crafts Show will be held at the Powhatan High School Gymnasium, Powhatan, on Saturday, Nov. 17, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday, Nov. 18 from noon to 5 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to come and spend a relaxed day in the country browsing, Christmas shopping and sampling homemade goodies. There is no admission charge.

This promises to be the biggest show to date, with more than 75 artists and craftsmen exhibiting their wares. A few of the items to be offered include hand-made furniture, folk art pieces, leathercrafts, jewelry, soft sculpture, Christmas ornaments and decorations.

Directional signs will be placed along State Routes 60 and 13.

Anniversary celebration set

The children of Elmo and Mary Guill will hold a reception in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 4 from 2-5 p.m.

Blazers to be honored here

A 50th wedding anniversary celebration will be held for Jesse and Rosa Blazer, Nov. 3 at 2 p.m. at the Appomattox Woodmen of the World Building.

This celebration is being offered by Jesse and Rosa's children.

Club meeting set for Nov. 1

The Oakville Extension Homemakers will meet Thursday, Nov. 1 at 11 a.m. for a covered-dish luncheon and to "exchange gifts from the kitchen."

If you would like to join the club, call the president, Geraldine Marshall, at 352-8093.

The meeting is open to all people, regardless of sex, race, color, age or creed.

Election-day sale planned

The Oakville Home and Garden Club will have a Food-Bake-Craft Sale at the school Election Day, Nov. 6, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Lunch will consist of ham biscuits, sausage biscuits, chicken-salad sandwiches, and pimento cheese sandwiches, hot and cold drinks.

Jean Notestein honored

The Commonwealth of Virginia, to encourage future math and science teachers, recently named two Sweet Briar students among the first recipients of the state's newly-created math/science scholarships/loans.

Juniors Jean Notestein of Appomattox and Louanne Woody of Hurt, both math majors at Sweet Briar, received awards for this fall term from the state's Department of Education.

According to Roger S. Schrock, coordinator of community education and approved programs for the department, the awards, $1,000 per semester, are designed to encourage college juniors and seniors in Virginia to become teachers of math and science in the state's public school system.

Schrock says the state's decision to institute the award program is in response to the well-documented drop in the numbers of these kinds of teachers.

Recipients must agree to complete work leading to an endorsement in math, chemistry, physics, or earth and space science. Other areas of science and general math, where the need in Virginia for teachers is not as great, are being assigned lower priorities.

One of the major benefits of the scholarship loan program is that recipients who have graduated from college and received a teaching certificate may cancel their notes in the principal amount of $2,000, plus any accrued interest, by teaching one full school year in the public schools of Virginia immediately following graduation from the college.

Both Notestein and Woody are enrolled in Sweet Briar's Turning Point Program, an adult program which enables women who are older than 25 or who have been out of formal education for at least four years to begin or to continue their education.

Linda Thoma honored

Linda M. Thoma of Appomattox is one of six women who received Junior Honors at Sweet Briar College's recent Convocation.

Students recognized for Junior Honors have achieved outstanding scholastic records during their freshman and sophomore years.
